WHISK IN-HOUSE DRY AGED BEEF

We dry age meat in a specially constructed cabinet for minimum 4 weeks in a strictly controlled environment where temperature, humidity, air circulation and bacteria levels gradually contribute to the meat changing its texture and flavor profile as it loses around a third of its weight as moisture evaporates. This intensifies the flavour and, at the same time, the natural enzymes are breaking down tissue making the meat very tender and much sought after by the connoisseurs.

Ireland has a temperate climate where foliage thrives and cattle can graze on grass all year round which gives a distinct flavor. Beef is raised on small and manageable farms with an abundant natural diet of grass and herbs in the summer and silage in the winter which guarantee all cattle have as natural a lifestyle as possible which is reflected in the quality of beef.
