Afternoon Tea

It is believed the credit for the custom of the Afternoon Tea goes to Anna, the 7th Duchess of Bedford in the early 19th century. The gap between lunch and dinner left the Duchess hungry in the late afternoon. To stave off the hunger she ordered tea, bread and butter and cakes to be served in her room. Once she started to invite her friends over to keep her company the habit caught on and the Afternoon Tea was born.

Afternoon Tea traditionally starts with savoury, finger sized sandwiches followed by warm scones, which are served with clotted cream and strawberry preserve. The grand finale is a selection of fine cakes and pastries.

The tradition of Afternoon Tea is continued, throughout the world, in some of the most prestigious five star hotels. Villa Rosa Kempinski is proud to present our version of the Afternoon Tea.
